5/21/2018	Ken	Literature Review	Thank you so much for the thorough and quick literature reviews! 5/22/2018	Ken from Tracey Riley	I love to highlight when students refer to outstanding attributes in the college, faculty, and staff. Here is one for the library from one of the HUMN 505 students. Way to go, Ken!	Mount Carmel offers helpful resources when it comes to searching for scholarly articles. The opportunities for learning and expanding one's knowledge base are endless! My favorite and probably most utilized resource for scholarly searching will be the "Optimizing Nursing Research" resource provided by Mount Carmel's Health Sciences Library (and provided by Dr. Riley in Module3!). It's a PowerPoint that gives step-by-step instructions on how to properly search & find nursing research literature. It asks you first to define the topic & type of information you will need. Once you have figured that out, it shows you how to search CINAHL & MEDLINE simultaneously to get the accurate search results you are looking for. This saves time and will improve search results! If I am still struggling to find what I am looking for, it also provides the Mount Carmel Library phone number. I can call and speak with a Librarian who may be able to assist me.
